- You can also sort places via price range and average price.

The screenshot shows the 'Filters' page on Airbnb. The 'Price range' section is active, displaying a histogram of nightly prices. Below the histogram is a price range slider with a minimum price of '$ 10' and a maximum price of '$ 1000+'. The text above the histogram states 'The average nightly price is $202'. Below the price range section, the 'Type of place' section is visible, with three options: 'Entire place', 'Private room', and 'Shared room', all of which are currently unselected. The 'Rooms and beds' section is also visible but empty. At the bottom of the filter panel, there is a 'Clear all' link and a 'Show 87 stays' button.

- Once you find a place you like, click on it and you will be able to see who is hosting the place along with all necessary information about the listing. You can Reserve straight from this page and if you scroll down you are able to contact the Host.

For International Students, it is not a bad idea to get a couple of students together and get them an Air BnB together. This would allow them to not only get to know each other but also have a chance to make friends before school starts. This would also drastically drop the price down for each individual student.
